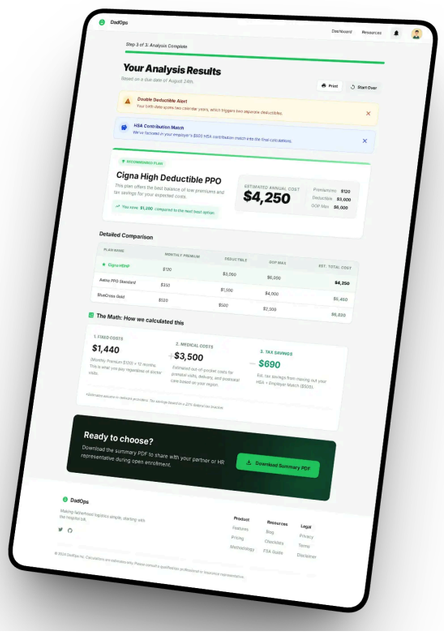
Take the Surprise Out of Birth Costs.

The only calculator designed for dads to compare insurance plans and estimate the real cost of your baby's first year.

Start Calculating Free

View Sample Report

Private & Secure. No spam.



Why DadOps?

Insurance companies profit from confusion. We cut through the noise.

Decode Insurance Jargon

We translate confusing terms like "out-of-pocket max" into plain English.

Spot Hidden Fees

Uncover costs that HR never mentions, like double deductibles.

Gain Peace of Mind

Make confident decisions knowing the real numbers.

How It Works

Three simple steps to financial clarity

Input Info

Enter your due date and insurance details

Compare Plans

We calculate costs for up to 3 plans

Get Your Report

See which plan saves you the most money

Reality Check

Real stories from expecting fathers navigating insurance costs

"My out of pocket is gonna wind up at $25k... the insurance year reset so [we hit] double maxes."

— Reddit User (r/NewDads)

"Knowing there's a $30,000+ bill waiting at the end of it is horrible."

— Reddit User (r/predaddit)

Simple, Transparent Pricing

No monthly subscriptions. No hidden fees. Just one payment for total clarity.

$19 one-time

- Compare up to 3 plans
- Double-deductible detection
- Detailed breakdown
- Printable summary

Get Access Now

30-day money-back guarantee

Ready to feel prepared?

Join thousands of dads who stopped worrying about the bills and started focusing on the baby.

Start Calculating Free

STEP 1 OF 3: DUE DATE

When is the big day?

Your due date determines which insurance plan year applies to your birth costs and deductibles.

Month

Select month...

Year

Select year...

The Double Deductible Trap

Did you know? If your baby arrives early in the year, you might have to pay your deductible twice. We help you plan for this.

Continue to Plans

256-bit Secure Encryption

HIPAA Compliant Standards

No Data Sold

© 2026 DadOps Inc. All rights reserved.

DadOps provides estimates based on your inputs. Not financial advice.